

COMMUNITY PLANNING FELLOWSHIP OVERVIEW

Academic Year	Number of Applicants	Number Awarded	Name/University of Fellows	Study Topic and Community Studied
2000-2001	11	2	Jennifer Noonkester (nee Michael), Florida State University	Assessed effectiveness of local hazard mitigation planning, Escambia County, FL
			Angus Jennings, Cornell University	Incorporation of flood hazard mitigation planning, Upper Mystic River, MA
2001-2002	8	2	Calah Young, University of North Carolina	Defining the role of regional Councils of Government in hazard mitigation planning, Triangle, NC
			Kaori Yoshida, Florida State University	Hazard mitigation and small business enterprises, Jacksonville, FL
2002-2003	16	2	Lynn Harris, University of California, Irvine	Effective hazard mitigation planning in multi-jurisdictional areas, Los Angeles County, CA
			Krista Mitchell University of Oregon	Effective public participation methods in hazard mitigation Beaverton, OR
2003-2004	22	1	Jane Sibley University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill	Incorporating faith and community based organizations into the mitigation process
2004-2005	23	3	Nicole Gilkeson University of Virginia Charlottesville, VA	Hazard Mitigation plan for the Thomas Jefferson District Planning Commission, Charlottesville, VA
			Dale Jess Jordan University of Oregon	Identify and equip coastal communities with tools to deal with complex flooding issues Oregon
			Julie Stein University of North Carolina Chapel Hill	Regional and institutional approaches to integrate flood protection and watershed planning Chapel Hill, NC
2005-2006	24	1	Erica Betts Georgia Institute of Technology

MMC FELLOWSHIP SELECTION COMMITTEE

Timothy Beatley, University of Virginia
 Ann-Margaret Esnard, Cornell University
 David Godschalk, University of North Carolina (chair)
 Dennis Mileti, Natural Hazards Center, University of Colorado, Boulder
 Charles Thornton, The Thornton ■ Tomasetti Group, Inc.
 William Wagoner, Livingston County Department of Planning, Howell, Michigan